

You've done your time – paid your debt to society – and now you want to change your life. But a criminal history makes it hard for even for the most determined person to find a job and re-enter society, especially if you lack education and work experience.

Apollo 13: Re-Entry Success can help.

If you . . .

- Are 18-29 years old and;
- Have been released from, federal or state prison, or County Jail, in the last 60 days and;

- Are committed to finding a job and changing your life . . .

then Apollo 13: Re-Entry Success is for you! Apollo 13 is named after the most successful re-entry in history: With hard work and determination, the astronauts on the Apollo 13 spacecraft – disabled by an explosion -- were able to return safely to Earth. With hard work and determination, you can find a job and keep it so you can make a smooth transition from incarceration into your community.
